Virtual Zoom Event

Italian Between Word and Image: Graffiti, Illustrations, Comic Books is the theme for the XX Week of the Italian Language in the World (October 19-25, 2020), a theme that can be developed both in a socio-linguistic key and by emphasizing expressive forms such as comics books, graphic novels and children's books.

Guest Speaker: Paolo Pagliacci from Perugia, Italy.

Learn how a unique inspiration and experience guides Paolo and how art can affect, contribute, and influence people.

Art allows people from different cultures and different times to communicate with each other via images, sounds and stories.

~Paolo Pagliacci is an illustrator and graphic designer. He creates animations for cinema, collaborates with graphic design studios to develop advertising illustrations, and has worked with publishing houses to make book illustrations for fables, didactic volumes, and more. He has also made several animated short films, including two about Dante's Divine Comedy (one of which is in the process of being redesigned). He is a lecturer of advertisement graphics at IITSA. Volta Perugia.

The event is open to the public - Reservation is required by October 22, 2020
